

Archaeologists working for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Savannah District, aided by divers and salvage operations teams from the U.S. Navy, retrieved a 64-square foot section of a Civil War ironclad warship (CSS Georgia) from the bottom of the Savannah River the evening of November 12, 2013. (USACE photo by Billy Birdwell)

